Romney Proposes To Slash State Costs By 30 Million

Kennedys' Son Dies Of Lung Ailment

Charles T. Fisher, 83, a General Motors Corp. vice president, and philanthropist, died Thursday, leaving only three survivors of the automobile industry's seven famous Fisher brothers.

Added Savings May Solve 1964 Tax Problems

MACKINAC ISLAND (AP)—The possibility of slashing government costs by up to $30 million has resulted in a revised approach by Gov. George Romney to the problem of revamping Michigan's tax structure.

Romney said the saving from more efficient government operations will pave the way for a fiscal reform program that will not require raising money above the current level of state revenues.

Romney told newsmen he has revised downward to $580 million the estimate of the minimum budget he may propose to the legislature for the 1964-65 fiscal year.

Previously, the governor had indicated that $610 million in expenditures would be needed to keep services at the current level for the state's expanding population.

"On Right Road"

Romney unveiled the new facts and figures to Republican legislative leaders with whom he has been discussing tax problems at his summer residence at Mackinac Island.

As they emerged from the meeting, many of the lawmakers observed "we're making progress now" or "now we're on the right road."

Romney pointed out that he and the legislators were still dealing with estimates of revenues and expenses and that the idea of maintaining expenditures at their present level is a goal rather than reality.

"The possibility of achieving our goal is great, so we should make every effort to accomplish it," he said.

Romney added that there is still the need to provide for up to $17 million for pension funding as required under the new Constitution, which goes into effect next Jan. 1. More money also will have to be spent in areas such as education, he said.

"But as a result of our review and efforts that have been under way to find ways in which we can render the same level of services through a reduction in costs and efficiency, we believe there is such an opportunity in a number of service areas," Romney declared.

Income Levy Predicted
Most observers expect Romney's tax program to include either a state income tax or to permit such taxes to be collected on a local basis, on both personal and corporate income. Another approach being studied would include a combination of both state and local income taxes.

Romney's program also is expected to call for repeal of the business activities and corporation franchise taxes.

The governor said he advised the legislators he would outline his program in detail shortly after the special session convenes Sept. 11.

It is known that some veteran lawmakers may try to block any statewide income tax by insisting that it be levied by individual local governments on an optional basis.

One influential GOP legislator told the Associated Press that the governor may be in for trouble if he insists on a statewide tax. The lawmaker said he would do everything in his power to see that—if income taxes are necessary—they would be levied on a county-wide basis.

Romney said he believed the cost cutting might result in the reduction of workers on the state payroll in some areas. But he said he did not know whether this would mean a drop in the overall total, which now numbers some 31,000.

British Osteopath In Scandal Case Declared Suicide

LONDON (AP)—A coroner's jury deliberated for only three minutes today and found that Dr. Stephen Ward committed suicide.

The 50-year-old society osteopath and artist, a central figure in Britain's biggest political scandal of the century, died Aug. 3 of an overdose of drugs after 80 hours in a coma.

A few hours after he was found unconscious on July 31, a jury convicted him of two charges of living off the immoral earnings of prostitutes Christine Keeler and Marilyn (Mandy) Rice-Jones.

Republicans Ask Proof Test Ban Will Aid Security

WASHINGTON (AP)—Republican hearings will start Monday in the big caucus room of the Old Senate Office Building.

Secretary of State Dean Rusk, flanked by Undersecretary W. Averell Harriman, who negotiated the agreement in Moscow, and William C. Foster, director of arms control and disarmament, will open the administration's presentation.

On Tuesday, Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara will testify. Members of the Senate Armed Services Committee and the Senate members of the Joint Atomic Energy Committee will sit in on the sessions.

Dirksen made his call for proof of U.S. security after Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., told the Senate that the record on which the treaty must stand or fall has yet to be made.

Goldwater said the Senate must act on facts, not on "assumptions, hopes, fears and fantasy."

Thresher Loss Slows Up Navy U-Boat Building

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—The tragedy of the nuclear submarine Thresher is slowing Navy plans for a quick buildup of the Polaris submarine fleet.

Officials estimate a five-month holdup while modifications are made to Polaris subs now being assembled in boatyards. The changes are being made in hopes of preventing a recurrence of the disaster which sank the Thresher last April 10 with loss of 129 lives.

Although the Thresher was not a Polaris submarine, the Navy decided to "reschedule construction and overhaul intervals" on all nuclear subs.

The decision could delay deployment of Polaris craft with the North Atlantic Treaty Organization and in the Pacific and Indian oceans. The nine missile subs now on patrol are in waters off Europe.

A Navy spokesman termed the delay minor and reported it is not expected to upset the Navy's timetable which calls for 41 Polaris subs prowling the seas by fiscal 1967.

The delay came to light with the arrival here this month of the Alexander Hamilton to practice-fire Polaris missiles in Atlantic waters off Cape Canaveral.

The Alexander Hamilton was to be the first of a parade of submarines slated to arrive here at

Loot In British Train Holdup May Reach 8 Million

LONDON (AP)—Known losses in history's greatest train robbery approached the $7 million mark today. Scotland Yard and police of 14 counties hunted the gang that ambushed the Glasgow-London mail train.

As bank after bank reported on the cash shipments seized by bandits at a rural junction Thursday, the total climbed to 2,472,000 pounds ($6,921,000).

Unofficial estimates placed the loot at a staggering 3 million pounds ($8,400,000).

Most of the loot in the holdup near Cheddington, 40 miles northwest of London, comprised used banknotes, British paper currency. The currency, still negotiable, was being shipped by banks to London to be destroyed.

Banks Take Losses
The Midland Bank said its loss ran around 500,000 pounds ($1,400,000). The National Commercial Bank of Edinburgh estimated its loss at 320,000 pounds ($896,000).

The National Provincial Bank said it had 1,064,000 pounds ($2,979,200) in the second coach. Barclays announced it lost 514,000 pounds ($1,439,000). A spokesman said "it may be a little more but we are insured."

Three other banks reported smaller losses.

Several British newspapers said the total may reach 3 million pounds.

Rewards offered by the Post Office, insurance companies and banks for apprehension of the robbers climbed to a total of 60,000 pounds ($168,000).

The gang of about 15 masked bandits halted the 10-coach "traveling post office" before dawn on a lonely stretch of countryside 40 miles northwest of London. The

Deaths In Detroit River Declared Murder-Suicide

TRENTON (AP)—The deaths of schoolteacher Mrs. Janet Le Clair, 42, and her mother, Mrs. Lottie Tinsch, 78, in the plunge of a car into the Detroit River have been declared murder and suicide.

Wayne County medical examiner Dr. Edward S. Zawadzki handed down the finding Thursday.

Mrs. Le Clair, Dearborn resident, and Mrs. Tinsch, a Detroit, drowned Wednesday when a car driven by Mrs. Le Clair ran off a business district street and into the river.

Mrs. Le Clair's 15-year-old daughter, Karen, was thrown from the car and rescued.

Police said Karen told them her mother had given her two sleeping pills in the car. The girl also said her mother had been acting strangely, police said.

Postal Service Chief Steps Out

WASHINGTON (AP)—J. Edward Day steps out of political life today after 2½ years as postmaster general.

On his last day on the job there wasn't even a promising rumor afloat as to who will succeed him.

Informed sources said President Kennedy hasn't decided on a successor. Speculation arose that the new postmaster general might be a Negro—first ever to hold a Cabinet post.

When Kennedy took office he first offered the job to Negro Rep. William L. Dawson, D-Ill., but Dawson turned it down. The President is known to want to put a Negro in his Cabinet before leaving office. He had earmarked Robert C. Weaver, housing administrator, for the Cabinet, but that plan fell through when Congress refused to create a Cabinet-level department of urban affairs.

Day is leaving the $25,000-a-year job for a lucrative practice of law in Washington.

Rusk And Soviet Premier Discuss East-West Issues

GAGRA, U.S.S.R. (AP)—U.S. Secretary of State Dean Rusk and Soviet Premier Khrushchev sat down today for a short-sleeve conference on cold war issues at the premier's luxurious estate overlooking the Black Sea.

Rusk arrived in Gagra Thursday. After a night at a government guest house he drove in an open convertible to the estate.

Khrushchev and his family awaited the American Cabinet member in the estate's recreation building. The premier walked down the steps of the building with two of his small grandsons, Vanya and Nikita, flanking him.

The premier introduced the boys to the secretary and warmly greeted members of Rusk's party. They included Assistant Secretary of State Richard Davis, U.S. Ambassador Foy D. Kohler, Llewellyn Thompson, former ambassador to Moscow and now Rusk's top adviser on Soviet affairs, and their wives.

Khrushchev good naturedly lined up with his guests on the steps for a dozen Russian and American photographs.

After the picture taking, Khrushchev led Rusk to the second floor veranda of the recreation building. Conference tables had been set up facing the sun-bathed Black Sea.

Rusk flew here Thursday from the Baltic seaport of Leningrad, making a 30-minute stop in Moscow to pick up Russian Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko.

Khrushchev and Rusk were expected to talk for about two or three hours and then retire to the

DISEASE IDENTIFIED

OTIS AIR FORCE BASE, Mass.

After his birth in the Otis Air Force Base Hospital on Cape Cod, about 65 miles south of Boston, Mrs. Kennedy, still recuperating from the Caesarean delivery in a special wing of the Otis hospital, had not been told her baby had died, Salingier told newsmen when he announced the baby's death.

The President and his wife lost a child in 1956 when Mrs. Kennedy suffered an internal hemorrhage. The child was born dead in August 1956 when it was delivered several weeks premature. Mrs. Kennedy also suffered a miscarriage in 1953.

Doctors awakened the President at 2:10 a.m. when the child's condition worsened. The President's brother received an urgent call two minutes later at his hotel and rushed to the hospital.

Two Other Babies Lost

With the President when the baby died were his brother, Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy, and presidential assistant David F. Powers of Boston.

Death came to the third child of the President less than 40 hours

(AP)—The Kennedy baby died of hyaline membrane disease, the Boston Children's Hospital Medical Center announced today.

Pierre Salingier, White House press secretary, read the hospital statement, which follows:

"The President of the United States has authorized the hospital to make a simple statement on the cause of death of Patrick Bouvier Kennedy."

"The attending physician certified to the diagnosis of prematurity."

(Please Turn To Page 10, Col. 1)

In Special Device

Salingier said the President would fly to Otis to see Mrs. Kennedy.

Almost immediately after his birth on Wednesday afternoon, five and one-half weeks ahead of schedule, doctors determined the child suffered from a respiratory affliction. Doctors termed the ailment idiopathic respiratory syndrome, a problem that causes difficulty in breathing, particularly in premature children.

A police-escorted ambulance sped the child from the hospital at Otis Air Force Base to the Boston hospital less than five hours after his birth. Teams of specialists gathered quickly to aid the child.

Doctors put the special breathing unit—a three-compartment, submarine-like device—into use Thursday afternoon. The device hopefully would have forced oxygen into the baby's lungs.

Almost immediately the baby showed improvement and optimistic reports continued as late as 11:30 p.m.

After Salingier made the announcement of the baby's death to newsmen jammed into a room at the famed Children's Hospital the President returned to his quarters to spend the rest of the night.

President Stays At Hospital

The other two Kennedy children, Caroline, 5, and John Jr., who will be three years old in November, are on Squaw Island at Hyannis Port, the summer White House on Cape Cod.

Salingier said at midmorning Thursday the baby was in serious condition but afternoon reports were less alarming. Thursday night came word that the child was being fed intravenously.

The midday report sent the President hurrying back from Cape Cod to Boston to be with the baby.

Kennedy conferred with doctors and visited his newborn son four times Thursday.

When the President decided to remain overnight at the hospital instead of going to his suite at the Ritz Carlton Hotel, Salingier fended off inquiries as to whether this had any significance by saying simply that the President decided to stay.

Classed in veranda of the main house for lunch.

It was assumed Rusk and Khrushchev again would range over major East-West issues, including the future of divided Berlin and Khrushchev's proposals for an East-West nonaggression pact and stationing of observers on both sides of the Iron Curtain to guard against surprise attack.

Mothers Forced To Beg By Cut Of Relief Rolls

WASHINGTON (AP)—In the news from Washington:

DEBT CEILING: The Senate hurriedly scheduled hearings next week on legislation to keep the national debt ceiling from plunging billions below the actual debt.

Unless Congress acts in time the limit will drop automatically Aug. 31 to $285 billion. By then the Treasury expects the national debt to be more than $307 billion.

Thursday the House passed, 221 to 175, a bill to extend the current temporary $309-billion ceiling through Nov. 30.

RELIEF STUDY: Mothers removed from relief rolls in a recent crackdown on welfare cheats have been forced to beg, bestow sexual favors and engage in other illicit activities in order to get food and lodging, asserts a research report.

The study, conducted by the Bureau of Social Science Research for the District of Columbia, concluded that "most of the 50 families studied 'were left worse off than before.'"

Among its examples, the report cited the case of a mother who let a man live with her for $10 worth of food and partial payment of rent. The man has left and "the only source of support she can see is to find another man to move in."

JUVENILE DELINQUENCY: Sen. Thomas J. Dodd, D-Conn., said today preliminary figures on juvenile court cases indicate the juvenile delinquency rate skyrocketed.

Pretty Brenda Lee Returning To Fair

One of the nation's top recording stars, Miss Brenda Lee, who carries a big voice in a small and neatly arranged package, will return to the U.P. State Fair this year.

Brenda is scheduled to walk out on the stage in front of the grandstand crowd at 8:15 p.m. Sunday, Aug. 18. Backing her rousing voice in a program of popular songs will be The Casuals, who are also remembered with affection by Fairgoers.

Miss Lee was last at the U.P. State Fair in 1961. She came in late in the afternoon by air and without hesitation accepted a request to sing for the 4-H Club boys and girls at their dinner. She was generous with encores and escaped only minutes ahead of curtain-time for the grandstand crowd.

Ray LaPorte, U.P. State Fair secretary-manager, said The Casuals have been asked to play for a teen-age dance to be held immediately after the Brenda Lee show. Dancing will be on the paved track and on the stage.

As a headliner in 1961 Brenda won many admirers. This year she is featured with the Casuals and Bobby Beckam, the group's male vocalist, bringing them together for one of the Fair's outstanding shows.

The 1963 U.P. State Fair will open Tuesday, Aug. 13, with the Danny Flenor auto thrill show; will hit an entertainment highlight on Thursday evening with Lonesome George Gobel and the Val Campbell stars; and end with the Brenda Lee show Sunday evening.

Illness Fatal To Mrs. Krause

Mrs. Ernest Krause Sr., 69, a long time resident of Bark River, died at 3 a.m. today at St. Francis Hospital where she had been a patient for two days. She had been ill for several months.

The former Edna Gasman was born July 23, 1894 in Bark River and married Ernest Krause in May 1920. She graduated from Northern Michigan College and taught for a number of years in Delta County. She was a member of Salem Lutheran Church in Bark River.

Besides her husband, she is survived by two sons, John of Bark River and Ernest Jr., Milwaukee; two daughters, Mrs. Clement (Marlene) Linder, Nadeau, and Mrs. Gerald (Luane) LaHaie, Paramount, Calif.; eight grandchildren; one sister, Mrs. Charles Olson, Bark River; and two brothers, Ralph Gasman, Madison and Arnold, Tacoma, Wash.

Friends may call at the Boyle Funeral Home in Bark River at 2 p.m. Sunday. The body will be removed to the Salem Lutheran Church in Bark River at 1 p.m. Monday where services will be conducted at 2 p.m. The Rev. Frank E. Peterson will officiate. Burial will be in the Bark River Cemetery.

Minimum Wage Hearing For U.P. Here On Tuesday

Mrs. Mary Lynn Minkoff, coordinator for the Michigan Committee for the Minimum Wage Act, today urged public participation in the minimum wage hearing from 1 to 4 p.m. next Tuesday, Aug. 13, in the State Office Building.

The hearing will be conducted by an interim committee of the Michigan Legislature headed by Rep. Don Gordon (R-Leeland) on the proposed Michigan minimum wage act.

The committee which will conduct the hearing in Escanaba is composed of three senators and three representatives on a bipartisan basis. Its only Upper Peninsula hearing in a statewide tour to sound the wage situation will be the one in Escanaba.

Chairman Gordon has said "I'm just looking at the facts of life. Governor Romney is in favor of it. The Senate passed it last winter 30 to 2 and it came out of the House Labor Committee but got caught in a logjam."

"It is up to the Legislature to come up with a law that makes as much sense as possible."

Gordon said that the committee's early hearings indicated that the major places with substandard wages are farms, hotels and restaurants, nursing homes and car wash businesses. "I personally don't think we can get a bill passed without some exceptions," said Gordon.

Witnesses at downstate hearings have testified that some employees are getting 50 cents an hour in Michigan and that 1,250,000 workers would get raises under a minimum wage law. The federal minimum wage of $1.15 an hour will rise to $1.25 Sept. 3 but does not cover some businesses and industries.

The legislative fact finders headed by Gordon report they believe that there is a better than 50-50 chance that Michigan will have a minimum wage of $1.15 or $1.25 an hour within a year.

Drive For Blood Termed Success

The mobile unit of the Badger Blood Bank wound up its three-day drive for blood in the Escanaba-Gladstone area with very encouraging results, according to Mrs. Edward Olson, blood program chairman.

She said that the mobile unit collected 282 pints of blood during the visit, just 63 short of the 345 pints needed to meet the area's quota.

"While this may seem like we fell quite short of the quota, the turnout was very good for the month of August, and far superior to that of previous years during a like period," said Mrs. Olson.

Prior to the three-day visit of the bloodmobile 125 persons had signed up as donors but only 63 kept the appointments. In addition to the 63 there were 237 walk-ins making a total of 300 actual donors. Of the 300 signed to donate there were 18 rejects, leaving the final total of 282 pints collected.

Mrs. Olson pointed out that in the future it is planned to schedule a one-day visit of the bloodmobile, probably within eight weeks following one of the quarterly visits.

She explained that the reasoning for this was because Delta

County at the present time has a deficit in the blood bank and the extra visit will help offset this. "Actually, during the past years Delta County has collected less than 90 per cent of its quota to the bank," she said.

She also expressed appreciation to those who had paid a visit to the mobile unit and said that the excellent turnout will help insure the future success of the blood bank in Delta County.

Anyone interested in assisting in recruitment work for the blood drives is asked to contact the local office of the American Red Cross at ST-6-3214.

Chambers Think More Ties With Tourism Useful

Cooperation among chambers of commerce is necessary for continued promotion of the Upper Peninsula's entire tourist industry, several chamber executives stated in reply to Upper Michigan Tourist Association questionnaires regarding 1963 summer vacation business.

Such cooperation was solicited — and received in varying degrees — by the UMTA in its travel and vacation show exhibit program last winter and spring. The association shouldered costs of preparing regional exhibit and tourist literature, along with other show expenses, while chamber personnel staffed the UMTA booth at each show.

Some of the increased tourist trade noted this summer is credited to Midwesterners learning about Upper Michigan's vacation appeal at such shows.

The Luce County Chamber of Commerce believes there is "not enough contact" between chambers. A recent visit by one of its executives to three other cities in eastern Upper Peninsula revealed no Tahquamenon Falls brochures on display.

Jerry Kinnunen, secretary of the Munising-Alger Chamber expressed the cooperative idea this way: "Each part of the Upper Peninsula should try to sell all of the Peninsula, to offer the tourist as much as possible and, thus, to keep him in the region as long as possible."

Nearly all chambers replying reported upturns in tourist business. "More facilities for camping and boating are needed for this trade," Ben Knauss, Marquette Chamber secretary-manager, stated. He reported that the number of Lake Superior circle route and Canadian travelers was "heavy."

Briefly Told

Escanaba police have issued traffic court summons to Frank A. Stuart Jr., 1119 3rd Ave. N., improper vehicle registration, defective brakes and failing to exercise due caution; Ralph L. Anderson, 528 S. 9th St., disobeying stop sign; Ethelaine M. Houle, 1618 S. 16th St., improper turn.

The older boys session at Camp Plagens, the Catholic Diocese of Marquette summer camp in the western Upper Peninsula, concluded its August term with an awards night at which Chris Young of Escanaba received an activity award for baseball and a pro-marshman award in rifle shooting.

The Ben Yagodzinski sawmill office in North Escanaba was broken into last night but there appears to be nothing missing, police said. The door was forced open and a steel filing case was rifled.

Teachers Train To Catch Up On Modern Science

YPSILANTI (AP) — Today's elementary school children live in a science-fiction sort of a world in which machines do everything from cooking their meals to molding the earth they live on.

"And yet," says one concerned teacher, "our elementary school science education may be as much as 50 years behind in teaching children about the wonders they already take for granted."

In an effort to upgrade science education, 35 elementary teachers from 13 states recently attended an intensive six-week training program at Eastern Michigan University here.

The program was sponsored by the National Science Foundation and took teachers through a wide range of science areas from plant identification to new ore mining techniques.

"Teachers are getting a feel of what they study and are learning how they can inspire their own pupils," said Albert Brown, director of the program.

Peninsula Mines Visited
Brown, dean of EMU's College of Arts and Sciences, said the school became involved in the program as a result of a project reported there in 1959. It expanded in 1961, with foundation backing, and now draws teachers selected from many states.

Participants spent up to 12 hours a day in lectures, and took part in field trips. They studied conservation techniques on farms or went to the Upper Peninsula to view mining techniques.

The 35 were chosen from among nearly 1,000 applicants. Brown said, "It was a tough job to select them. We based final selection on what seemed to be the most potential for leadership in elementary science teaching.

"We're learning as much in a week as we would in a whole semester of usual study," said Mrs. Helen Moore, a Greenville, Miss., teacher.

"When I return home, I'll be working with other teachers to help develop science teaching. And among pupils, I'll be organizing a science club and other activities."

Chance To Observe
The program planners and participants hope education eventually will come from programs which will give youngsters a chance to learn about things before they become obsolete or are taken for granted.

Beginning June 17, the teachers spent two weeks on the EMU campus or on an area field trip, studying water and landforms, weather, plants and rocks and minerals.

Another three weeks were spent on a series of field trips ranging throughout Michigan and covering the state's geography and land uses.

Then the teachers returned to EMU for more lectures on the impact of urban development, recreation and resource uses.

There are some 20 elementary institutes sponsored by the NSF elsewhere, said Brown. However, none of the others featured the extended field trips included at EMU.

This summer's EMU program drew teachers from Michigan, Wyoming, Louisiana, California, Wisconsin, North Carolina, Pennsylvania, Oregon, Mississippi, Ohio, New York, Minnesota and Virginia.

Woman Rescued In Snake Area

PECOS, Tex. (AP) — Parched by five days of exposure in sweltering and lonely stretch of far west Texas, Mrs. Vera Greer, 67, was rescued by an Air Force helicopter Thursday.

She was found in a rattlesnake-ridden area of dense salt cedar growth with her German shepherd dog, which presumably saved her from snakebite in 10 miles of wandering.

At a Pecos hospital, doctors said Mrs. Greer suffered from exposure and dehydration. She was alternately conscious and in a coma Thursday night.

Mrs. Greer and a daughter, Mrs. R. C. Brumley Jr., of Kermit, started to go fishing Sunday. A flat tire on their car forced a roadside halt.

While Mrs. Brumley was changing the tire, her mother and the dog strayed away. Mrs. Brumley searched through the night and then appealed for help.

Guardsman Sent Out Of Grayling With Hepatitis

CAMP GRAYLING (AP) — Discovery of a case of infectious hepatitis led Thursday to the quick recall of a National Guard battalion from a remote training area.

A mess officer, 1st Lt. James J. Hughes, Columbus, Ind. attorney, was found to have the disease. He was sent to Wright-Patterson Air Force Base at Dayton, Ohio. His condition was reported satisfactory.

Indiana's National Guard began its annual two-week encampment here last weekend.

All persons who had been in contact with the Guardsman were given gamma globulin. His battalion's men were moved from the field area to the camp proper though training continued. The area where Hughes had been was quarantined. Guard officials said there was little danger of an epidemic.

Rock 4-H Club Holds Meeting

ROCK—The Rock 4-H members met at the club house Aug. 6 to discuss Fair exhibits and report on activities since last meeting. All members must have their exhibits at the Ahti Waak home by 9 a. m. Monday, Aug. 12 for transportation to the Fair. The club also voted to donate $5 to the Rock Student Loan Fund. Sally Waak reported that Marvin Seppanen received the lamp which was offered by the club. Members voted to hold a tennis court dance sometime after the Fair. Jean Kivela and Sally are on the planning committee.

Reports heard were by Nancy Weidum, that the trash cans have been finished and are in use at various business places. Work on them was donated by Marvin Kivekas and paint was donated by the Rock Co-op and Larsons store. Members did the painting.

Susan Mikkila, Nancy Weidum, Debbie Kivela, Cheryl Larson, and Tina Mankiewicz reported on their Camp Wells experiences. Sally Waak told of her stay at Camp Shaw. All members who went to New Glarus, Wis., and the Cave of the Mounds, over the weekend, gave a brief summary of their trip.

Ahti Waak was present to give the club some pointers on how to conduct a business meeting. The members will enter the model business meeting competition at the Fair.

Jean Kivela was in charge of games and songs before the meeting. Cynthia Niemi and Debbie Kivela served lunch after the meeting.

Mr. and Mrs. Gus Lindall have returned to Racine, Wis., after visiting her mother, Mrs. Hilma Smedberg and her sister, Mrs. George Swanson for a week.

Mrs. Mildred Haines and Mrs. Ellen Frye have returned to Hinckley, Minn., after visiting with Mrs. Anna Carlson for several days. They also visited other friends and relatives in Munising, Gladstone, Marquette and Escanaba.

The Rock Volunteer Firemen's picnic will be held at the Lions Park Sunday, Aug. 11.

Membership dues for the Rock Community Ambulance service will be collected at the Rock Co-op Co., on Friday, Aug. 16 from 9 a. m. until 8 p. m. or payments can be made to George Weingartner, Ida Niemi, Ruby Vandenburg, Selma Mannie or Bertha Jokela. Membership expires Aug. 31. Policies purchased prior to Sept. 1 will be effective immediately, those purchased later will not become effective for 30 days.

Top membership solicitation team for August was Felix Johnson and Gust Asp, who presented applications from Barron Farms, assigned to Daniel Barron; Delta Swiss Farm, assigned to Lowell Swift; Frank Falkies; Clayton Ford; Jaeger's IGA, assigned to William G. Jaeger; Schire Bros. Farm, assigned to Morton Schire; and Vernon Wick; all of Cornell.

Memberships were also accepted from Big Boy Drive In, assigned to William G. Morrow; Delta Sewing Center, assigned to Patrick McGee; Nagelkirk Fruit Market, assigned to John Nagelkirk; Roy Ness Contracting, assigned to Roy Ness; Nod Inn Hotel, assigned to Fred Costello; and Snyder Shell Service, assigned to Walter L. Snyder.

Nominees for directors to be voted on in the election which closes Thursday, Sept. 12, presented by President Jack C. Berg are: Ralph Anderson, Wilmore K. Berglund, Kryn Bloom, John Fawcett, Raymond O. Fish, Herbert E. Flath, A. W. Freeman, Emil Gartner, Robert Haack, Forrest Henslee, Willard J. Lavolette, Russell Lee, Raymond McDonough, William Pfeffer, Paul Snyder, Raymond Taylor and Don Trowbridge. Seven members will be elected.

Workman Falls From GHS Roof

Lowell Besander, 21, of Iron Mountain, employed by the contractor installing the roof on the new Gladstone High School addition, was rushed to St. Francis Hospital about 3:15 p. m. Thursday after he stepped into an open dome on the roof of the school and fell to the ground.

Besander suffered a concussion, lacerations to the head and a fractured finger and toe in the fall.

According to reports, the Iron Mountain man was working on the roof of the new addition, walking backwards, when he stepped into the open dome (similar to a skylight) and fell one story. The new building is a one-story structure.

Besander's condition is reported "good" by the hospital today.

Baptist Church Of Gladstone Sponsors Gospel Service

A gospel service of chalk art, music and preaching will be presented by John Ankerberg and Tim Osterlund, Friday, Saturday and Sunday evenings, August 9-11, at First Baptist Church of Gladstone, Michigan and Sixth.

John is the son of internationally known evangelist and former director in Youth For Christ, Rev. Floyd Ankerberg. Tim and John have conducted youth meetings many areas of the Mid-West during the summer vacation. The team recently participated in tent meetings in Wallace and will be in camps and churches in Wisconsin, Michigan and Minnesota before returning to school this fall.

The public is cordially invited to all services. Saturday evening all youth are invited to a youth rally. All services begin at 7:30 p. m.

Bond Falls in Ontonagon County is one of the Upper Peninsula's many spectacular waterfalls.

Peninsula's Neglect Of Waterfalls Criticized

By KENNETH S. LOWE

Michigan has approximately 150 waterfalls, and all but one of them are in the Upper Peninsula. This is more than a statistic on geography. It is a figure that suggests what sort of country the Upper Peninsula is, for waterfalls are among the most beautiful and spectacular sights in all of nature.

The Upper Peninsula is favored with waterfalls—large and small, narrow and broad, serene and turbulent—from one end to the other. Many of them are remote and almost inaccessible. Few of them, except Tahquamenon, are highly publicized, if at all.

And this is unfortunate, for it is evidence that the Upper Peninsula is failing to capitalize on one of its most striking attractions for tourists. It is true that articles have been published in magazines and newspapers about the Northern Peninsula's grand cascades. And it is true that the Upper Michigan Tourist Association has published and distributed a most attractive pamphlet describing the Peninsula's waterfalls, complete with a map indicating the location of some of the more important falls.

But local communities are doing very little to let tourists know about the waterfalls in their own areas.

Waterfall Hobbyist

One person who is concerned about this is Benjamin H. de Claire of Grosse Pointe Park, who has traveled extensively in Michigan to view its scenic sites. Here is what he said recently in a letter to Motor News on this subject:

"Now that it's so easy to cross the Straits, the Upper Peninsula beckons. But its story is nowhere near half-told. Hundreds of scenic wonders and charms exist, but are known only to the natives. It is claimed that there are over 150 waterfalls in the Upper Peninsula, but, aside from the Tahquamenon, Upper and Lower, try to find them.

"For the past four years my family and I have tried to find these attractions, and our experience has been most frustrating. Aside from the Tahquamenon, Bond and Agate, these little or big side shows are very poorly marked, excepting those along the Presque Isle River in Ontonagon County and the four spectaculars on the Black River in Gogebic County. In Grand Marais, their only attraction is Sable Falls, and if you follow their dilapidated arrows you wind up in a meadow. Locating the Laughing Whitefish Falls in Alger County results in a dry cleaner's field day. You find yourself . . . huddled in 'mud' . . . with no guiding markers.

"Apathy Unforgivable" "This apathy among the natives is unforgivable . . . They holler for industries, but the now existing tourist industry can go hang. Believe me, California, Texas and Florida would bust a gut to promote anything that would attract a tourist's dollar without requiring any capital investment or much outlay. Michigan's natives are fast asleep."

Steps are being taken to make Laughing Whitefish Falls more accessible. The Michigan Conservation Department is negotiating with Celotex Corp. to acquire land around the falls and establish this as a scenic site. If this becomes a reality, Laughing Whitefish Falls finally will receive the attention it deserves, but it will be because the state intervened and undertook this responsibility.

Another cascade in Alger County—Wagner Falls near Munising—became state property through a gift a couple of years ago. It was dedicated as a scenic site and a plaque was installed at the head of a footpath leading to the falls. But here again state action was required before the falls were prominently called to the attention of tourists.

Marquette County likewise has falls that have not been properly publicized on the local level, and this undoubtedly is true of almost every other Upper Peninsula county. What is needed is a realization that waterfalls are a valuable resource and the initiative to do something locally to take advantage of this resource.

Speaking before the Upper Peninsula chapter of the Michigan Secondary School Association, Prof. Roe told educators there is nothing sacred about the nine-month school year nor about the five-day week. He pointed out that "research doesn't support our present schedule and that we must change our program to meet the needs of the reluctant learners, the socially deprived and the drop-outs."

The three-day session gave U. P. principals an opportunity to evaluate their present programs and to discuss mutual problems and solutions. Edmer Lacasse, Stephenson High School principal, will assume the UPSSA presidency in October, succeeding Marvin Fredrickson, Manistique High School principal.

Other U. P. principals on the program included Robert Mienisky, Escanaba Junior High School; John Norton, Gladstone High School; and Thomas Quarnstrom, Iron Mountain High School.

Delta United Charities

Directors of the new Delta United Charities today announced their first campaign plan with a goal of $50,000 to be raised in cash and pledges in the last two weeks of September to finance 9 local charities in the 1964 calendar year.

The agencies to be financed by the new federated fund raising organization are the Retarded Children's School, the Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, Camp Fire Girls, Child Guidance Clinic, Salvation Army, Red Cross Blood Bank and Red Cross Home Service, the Young Men's Christian Association and the Bay Cliff Health Camp.

There are some omissions, some agencies which do not participate in federated fund raising like the National Foundation (polio) and American Cancer Society; some which were not included in the package by the DUC board of directors as not meeting its format. But the 9 agencies are an outstanding group of youth, welfare and health services and the public is asked to look upon them as the beginning of the Delta United Charities and not its final form, to accept them and support them so that a sound united charities organization can be created here.

From such beginnings enlargement of the community's charitable obligations can be undertaken, but it is imperative that a safe start be made.

This sort of thinking has motivated the directors, and they have ordered that in its first year Delta United Charities will devote its support to local charities. It is not supporting initially even the Michigan United Fund, under whose umbrella it has drawn so much guidance and aid.

DUC directors are public spirited men who are volunteer workers in this important field of public service. They are mindful that the Delta County community is not discharging its full obligation to the agencies which are serving the county under the $50,000 budget and the first year policy of "home only" aid.

But they say that the county is not in a very strong financial situation; that it has had a history of partial failure of its federated fund drives, and that they believe it will be possible to develop a strong united giving program if a conservative start is made and if the giving is restricted to local charities at first.

Delta County has not up to now been able to organize strongly for united giving, a difficult social maneuver which calls upon a community for exercise of its good will and generosity in the support of many of its volunteer services in one campaign. This time up, Delta United Charities will call upon the member agencies which it will finance to help supply workers in the campaign, and it will break giving down into 9 categories of business and employment for solicitation. Heavy reliance will be placed upon payroll deduction to get the $50,000.

Success of the first DUC campaign in September won't fulfill the community's full obligations toward charity, but it will go a long way toward doing it. And an achievement as significant as the funding of our Child Guidance Clinic, Blood Bank and other needed services will be the uniting of the community in a common responsibility.

This is a very difficult thing to do. Many persons, perhaps all, have inclinations to abstain because of specific inclusions or exclusions in a united fund, but when enough persons put aside their personal preferences to support a community project of such unquestionable total merit, a fine community emerges.

Almost Commonplace

America is producing millionaires at the fastest clip since the fabulous '20s and that there are now at least 100,000 of them running around loose in this country as proof that you just can't keep a good man down, and nuts to taxes and the tariff.

This no doubt is good for the national economy. Certainly it is nice for the millionaires involved, and it just has to be encouraging to aspiring millionaires.

But what's it going to do to the few of us laggards who still haven't made our first million?

How are we going to explain to You Know Whom that there can be no new fall wardrobe for her because things are so tough these days that it's impossible for anyone, but anyone, to put away a dime?

Is she going to buy this with love in her heart when she knows that 100,000 other women were smart enough to pick out men who were smart enough to make it big?

What burns us nonmillionaires is that if these guys are smart enough to make a million, why aren't they smart enough to keep it to themselves instead of making a big, fat thing out of it?

You wonder how 100,000 characters with no more judgment than that can be so lucky when the real geniuses have to keep on struggling.

One hundred thousand of them. Wow!

The Doctor Says:

No Nightly Routine

By Dr. Wayne G. Brandstadt, M.D.

Q—I have been using mineral oil as advised by my doctor each night with good results. I do not swallow it, but use it as an enema. Is this harmful?

A—Your doctor knows more about your special problems than I do. I have repeatedly recommended that small enemas be used instead of laxatives. I would prefer the use of plain warm water, but if your doctor thinks it's better for you, there is no harm in using it in this way. I would not, however, advise making the use of any type of enema a nightly routine.

Q—Is it true that in order to do you any good, exercise must be done in the morning on arising?

A—The only general restrictions on exercise I know are: Don't engage in violent exercise for at least 30 minutes after a heavy meal, and don't exercise to the point of overfatigue. If you are going to exercise a set of muscles you have not been using, you should do the exercises for only a few minutes and increase the amount gradually from day to day. The time of day is thought to be of little or no importance.

Q—I have been having trouble with my eyelids. The doctor calls it blepharitis. It is very painful.

Is there a cure and will it affect my vision?

A—Blepharitis is an inflammation of the lids. It often goes with chronic conjunctivitis. It may be due to uncorrected errors of vision, especially farsightedness and astigmatism. It may be due to eyelash and eyelid cosmetics. It should not affect the vision. But, unless it is properly treated, complications that could affect the vision may occur. An eye specialist should be consulted if the present treatment does not clear it up within 10 days.

Q—I am over 50 and am troubled with itching ears and itching eyelids. What causes this and can it be helped?

A—The causes of itching are legion but a common cause of itching of the ears and eyelids is seborrheic dermatitis, a disease that is associated with excessive dandruff and that is vastly improved by controlling the dandruff. This and allergy are the two commonest causes of the kind of itching you have.

Please send your questions and comments to Dr. Wayne G. Brandstadt, M.D., in care of this paper. While Dr. Brandstadt cannot answer individual letters, he will answer letters of general interest in future columns.

Edson In Washington Minister Can't Walk; He Flies

By PETER EDSON

WASHINGTON (NEA) — All the pieces in the papers about the deficit in the U. S. balance of payments and the declining U. S. stocks of gold have a bad psychological effect on most American citizens, even though many of them haven't much notion what it's all about.

This is a pretty sophisticated subject.

A short time ago it was said that the only man in the world who really understood international payments was Per Jacobson of Sweden, managing director of International Monetary Fund. He died in May.

Bankers, economists, government fiscal experts and some congressmen discuss balance of payments very emotionally. Even so, their language is almost completely unintelligible to laymen.

Back One Of These authorities into a corner and ask him for a simple explanation. You'll get something like this:

"The balance of payments is an international accounting in summary form for all U. S. international financial transactions. It includes exports and imports of goods and services, foreign loans and investments, foreign aid, the cost of keeping American military forces overseas, their spending and touring spending abroad, dividend, interest and loan repayments and the movements of gold to balance international accounts."

An average citizen may then ask, "What has all this got to do with me?"

One solid answer is that it affects U. S. jobs and taxes, due to its influence on the value and purchasing power of the dollar.

It can influence your mortgage interest rates or time payments on a new car.

This last is an intricate daisy chain, but it can be followed.

On the day President Kennedy sent his long message to Congress with recommendations to improve the U. S. balance of payments position, the Federal Reserve Board raised the interest rate on its loans to banks from 3 to 3.5 per cent.

It also authorized U. S. banks to raise to 4 per cent the interest rates they charged on short term loans—from 90 days to a year.

The aims were to attract foreign money to the United States and to encourage U. S. corporations and others with surplus funds for investment to keep this money in this country.

This action was not intended to affect long-term interest rates on mortgages or corporate and municipal bonds. There is no agreement among all government or private industry economists, however, that long-term interest rates will not be pushed up by the authorized increases in short-term rates.

One overriding concern is that if a federal tax cut doesn't come soon to release new funds for saving and investment, a tight money supply might develop.

Higher interest rates would result and might slow up new business investment.

This would hold back economic growth and employment—a prime Kennedy objective.

We Come To The interest which consumers must pay on their homes and autos.

The rates now average between 6 and 7 per cent. In a tight money market though, when interest rates are going up, the terms may be changed to make up the difference.

Down payment requirements could be increased.

Auto loans could be cut from 36 to 30 or even 24 months. Mortgage might be granted for only 25 years instead of 30. The result is larger monthly payments, which hit consumers hard.

The alternative to the complicated balance of payments adjustments could be even worse.

Say the United States doesn't raise its short-term interest rates. Then foreign depositors could demand payment in gold—which U. S. depositors can't do—and the drain on U. S. gold stocks could continue. Then confidence in the dollar at home and abroad may be further impaired.

SHOPPER'S RESTING PLACE

CLAREMONT, Calif. (AP) — The only empty lot in the business district of Claremont has been leased by the city for $1 a year, for use as a resting place for shoppers.

The city has weeded the lot and put in a few floral plantings and a couple of park benches.

Residents have named the area for City Manager Richard Malcolm, whose idea it was to lease and improve it. They are calling it "Malcolm's Mead."

TULSA, Okla. (AP)—The Rev. Russell Heriford can't walk—but he can fly.

The Rev. Mr. Heriford, 38, is a paraplegic—paralyzed from the waist down by World War II wounds. But that does not stop him from serving as a minister in the Nazarene Church—or from piloting an airplane.

Heriford was a tank man when U. S. armored forces crossed the Rhine River into Germany. His tank had started across an open field when machine guns began firing. Suddenly Heriford found himself on the ground.

"There was no pain — no remembrance of the bullet rolling me off the tank," he recalls. "I tried to get up, but nothing moved except my head and left arm."

The bullet had entered his right shoulder, pierced his right lung—and damaged his spinal cord.

"I was determined not to be a captive of the wheelchair," Heriford says.

He learned to drive a car, then won a license to fly a simple type airplane. In 1958, he was licensed to fly a more complicated type of plane, adapted with a hand control for the rudders, which normally are operated by the feet.

Heriford met his wife, Kittie, while he was in a Veterans Hospital in Memphis, Tenn. They have two adopted sons, Tommy, 7, and Jimmy, 9.

The Herifords moved to Tulsa in 1948, then in 1951 went to New Mexico, where he worked for the Air Force.

But in 1953 Heriford decided "the Lord was calling me to preach." He entered Pasadena College in California and was graduated in 1957. They recently returned to Oklahoma, but, after a few months in Tulsa moved to nearby Inola because it gave Heriford a handier place to land his plane. He and his family fly to Tulsa for Sunday service. He also flies around the United States and Canada to preach.

Chess is believed to have originated in India at least 13 centuries ago. It was called chaturanga, or "four arms," after the components of a contemporary army—elephants, horses, chariots and infantry.

Virginia Gentle Becomes Bride Of James W. Wery

Virginia Carol Gentle became the bride of James Warren Wery in a ceremony performed Saturday, Aug. 3 at Christ Methodist Church in Cleveland, Ohio. Rev. Ralph Gray officiated at the ceremony for the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Gentle, 19150 Dresden Dr., South Bend, Ind. and the son of Levi Wery of Wilson and Mrs. Charles Foster, 1406 10th Ave. S.

Maid of honor was Karen Gentle of Cleveland and bridesmaids were Carol Meslich, South Bend, JoAnn Harrison, Sylvania, Ohio and Linda Gier, Cleveland.

James Pierce of Elkhart, Ind., was best man and Gilbert Lindsey, Norman Dodge and Richard Baker seated the guests.

The bride wore a gown of nylon organza over taffeta with Alencon applique and seed pearl and sequin trim. It was fashioned with a scoop neckline, long tapering sleeves and soft folds making a bustle in back. Alencon applique enhanced the skirt which swept into a chapel train. She carried a bouquet of gladiolas, carnations and stephanotis.

Immediately following the ceremony a reception was held in the Church Fellowship Hall. The newlyweds will make their home at 208 Boles, Osceola.

The bride is a graduate of Washington Clay High School and her husband graduated from Cedar Lake Academy.

Judith Ann Magnuson Is Bride Of Owen Peterson

Owen E. Peterson claimed Judith Ann Magnuson his bride Saturday, Aug. 3 at a double ring ceremony performed at Messiah Lutheran Church in Marquette. The marriage vows were spoken in a candlelight setting before an altar decorated with white and pink gladioli.

Parents of the bride couple are Rev. and Mrs. J. Otto Magnuson, 710 W. Magnetic, Marquette and Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Peterson, 817 Brookfield, Kingsford.

The bride's father, who is pastor of Messiah Lutheran, was assisted by Rev. George Olson, Rapid River, in performing the ceremony.

Mrs. LeRoy Mueller, of St. Paul was matron of honor with Patricia Findley, of St. Paul, Barbara Dahlin, Rockford, Ill., and Sharon Kent of Marquette as bridesmaids. The bridegroom's niece, Terri Lynn Johnson of Escanaba was junior bridesmaid.

Richard Lindholm, Iron Mountain, a college classmate of the bridegroom was best man with David Dave, Mankato, Minn., and Robert Cambensy, both cousins of the bridegroom, the bride's brother, Jon Magnuson as groomsmen and another brother of the bride, Danny Magnuson was junior groomsmen. Thomas Hedlin, Minneapolis and Don Hartman of Nahma seated the guests.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of pure silk organza over taffeta. The bouffant skirt was floor length and extended into a train. The Sabrina neckline was outlined with Swiss applique medallion which also edged the elbow length sleeves. Her veil of pure silk illusion was held in place by a Swedish style crown. Her only jewelry was a single strand of pearls, a gift of the bridegroom. She carried a cascade bouquet of white gladioli, feathered carnations and trailing ivy.

With Our Women

Think of Mrs. Henry A. Donnelly and you immediately see a picture of a charming, talented woman, surrounded by starry-eyed children, who listen with rapt attention as she weaves a magic spell of words.

For Mrs. Donnelly has a title that anyone might envy. She is "The Story Lady" to hundreds of boys and girls and to the adults she so often entertains.

Mrs. Donnelly, who lives in Escanaba now with her sister, Mrs. R. B. Baxter, at 1711 Lake Shore Drive, has made a career of working with children, although she finds grown-up audiences equally responsive.

Born in Aurora, Ill., she attended Kindergarten College in Chicago after her graduation from high school. She and her husband, the late Mr. Donnelly of Shell Lake, Wis., were married in St. Paul and made their home in Minneapolis.

She taught in kindergartens in Ashland, Wis., St. Cloud, Minn., and in a private school in Minneapolis and she gave a story program each week at the Sister Kenny Hospital and at the School for Crippled Children in Minneapolis.

She not only tells the stories but she illustrates them with puppets which she makes herself. "The puppets," she says, "make stories so much more real and supply more action." She also makes picture books for children, with each page telling a complete story.

Mrs. Donnelly is extremely modest about her accomplishments, but this editor remembers one of the most beautiful Christmas programs she has ever attended, a Women's Club feature at First Presbyterian Church. It's highlight was a living Christmas tree, with the happy faces of children smiling between the pine branches. It was Mrs. Donnelly's original idea and her arrangement.

She would never volunteer this information, but in visiting with her, we learned that on a recent visit in Glenview, Ill., her young nephew asked her to visit his school and tell stories. She promptly agreed, but found, after her arrival at the school, that she had an audience of 600 youngsters, who sat on the gymnasium floor as they eagerly listened to her.

Escanaba's "Story Lady" has one other hobby, traveling, but it most certainly has second place in the heart of this remarkable woman.

VACATION WRAPS

Fur-trimmed cashmere cardigans made ideal evening wraps for summer vacations. They're dressy and easy to pack.

Nothing in the house for lunch? Serve canned vegetables in a cream or cheese sauce with hard-cooked eggs. Garnish with crisp bacon if there are a few slices on hand.

Ann Landers

Voice Ruins Life

Dear Ann Landers: I'm a 17-year-old boy who hopes you can solve my problem or lead me to someone who will.

My voice is high-pitched and weak. I sound like a girl. It has always been this way, but somehow it seems to be getting worse. I'm becoming so self-conscious about it that I never answer the phone unless I absolutely have to. This is not my imagination, Ann. People are always mistaking me for my younger sister. Operators frequently say, "Yes, Ma'am."

I hate to speak in class because of my voice. My grades slipped last year because I'd rather shake my head no than to give the right answer.

People say I'm not bad looking. I have a good build, am a neat dresser and have a pleasant personality, but my voice is ruining my life. Can you suggest help for me?—DAVID

Dear David: First go to a doctor and find out if there is something organically wrong. If you get a clean bill of health ask the doctor to suggest a speech clinic. You can strengthen your vocal cords just as you can strengthen other parts of your body.

Voice lessons will give you confidence. Your insecurity is a major part of your problem.

Dear Ann Landers: The letter about the neighbor with 38 cats was too much. These people never had it so good. Please ask them if they would like to trade houses with us.

For five years we have lived next door to a character who has parlayed two poodles into 48 dogs of different sizes, colors and breeds. (German Schnauzers, Brittany Spaniels and Toy Poodles). This is asking a great deal of a five-room bungalow.

The enterprise is advertised as follows in the local paper:

"Stud service, clipping, and puppies available." The stench is unbearable especially on hot days when the wind is from the south. The yapping and barking is enough to drive a person to the brink, which is where I am at the moment.

Yes, we have complained to the authorities and the situation has been investigated. But it was decided that the people are operating within the law since their dogs are a "hobby." When the ads were presented as evidence that they are also in business, we were told that it is perfectly all right to make money on a hobby. What do we do next?—DOG TIED

Dear Tied: Organize the neighborhood for some red-hot political action. If enough of you put heat on the city council or the zoning board you will probably get results.

Dear Ann Landers: This problem concerns my brother Tim who is 11 years old. Or perhaps my mother is the real problem.

Tim is dreadfully overweight. He has been putting on the pounds steadily since he was about eight years old. Now he is so heavy he looks terrible. The boy eats all day long and mom takes delight in getting him to clean his plate.

Any-Deer Season Up For Decision

CADILLAC (AP)—A decision on whether to issue 155,000 any-deer permits to hunters this fall was expected from the State Conservation Commission today.

At an informal commission meeting Thursday, the conservation department recommended that permits be issued to allow the harvest of 17,000 antlerless deer in the Upper Peninsula and 43,000 in the Lower Peninsula.

Joe Bartlett, the department's deer expert, said there are too many deer for available feed, a conservation department spokesman reported.

Bartlett said each year's fawn crop produces a huntable surplus of between 100,000 to 150,000 deer. The chairman of the conservation committee of both houses of the State Legislature, Rep. Hans Rasmussen, R-Ludington, and Sen. Frederick Hilbert, R-Wayland supported the proposal.

Walter Baker of Grand Rapids, president of the Greater Michigan Conservation League, took issue with the department's deer-count. He also contended that the department's effort to improve deer habitat is negligible.

Another league member, Jack Teague of Bitley, contended a majority of the voters would object to holding any-deer seasons and challenged the commission to put the proposal to a ballot test.

Teague said cherry growers and timbermen were pushing the any-deer shooting and argued that the commission, by acting for the fruit and timber industry, was hurting the tourist industry.

Rep. Rasmussen defended the pulpwood industry.

"The lumber companies are among the best friends the deer herd has because without the cuttings the food supply would continue to dwindle."

Lester Newbold of Harrison, vice-president of the Michigan United Conservation Clubs, said his organization is in favor of the doe and fawn harvest.

Others who supported the department's recommendation were the Kent County Conservation League and Dr. Casey Westell, wildlife ecologist for the Packaging Company of America.

Experiments by the National Aeronautics and Space Administration show that 100 pounds of stray meteorite, when boiled at intense heat, yield three to four pounds of life-giving oxygen.

Civil War Steam Engine Clanks At Famed Greenfield

DEARBORN (AP)—Squealing even louder than delighted kids—those of today and yesterday—"The General" huffed and puffed them about famed Greenfield Village today.

"The General" is 108 years old and was a participant in "the great locomotive chase of the Civil War," but it clanked in Thursday under its own steam.

The "great chase" took place in 1862, the year before the man who was to create Greenfield Village was born. That man was Henry Ford and into his village he transplanted brick-by-brick and plank-by-plank some of early America's more historic buildings.

Granddaughter Aboard "The General" is using Smith Creek Station where an experimenting young newsbutch named Thomas Alva Edison was dumped off a train out of Port Huron, Mich., after setting a car afire. The station is a Ford transplant.

Sitting jauntily, the only engine in the place puffing steam, "The General" took 48 passengers aboard its 1913 coach at Detroit's New York Central Station Thursday and brought them to Greenfield Village.

Welcoming ceremonies out of the way, fathers and mothers scrambled with children to get aboard the first of many five-minute, half-mile runs "The General" and its coach will make here during the next 10 days.

Greenfield Village, along with Detroit and Dearborn, is celebrating the centennial of Ford's birth. "The General" celebrated the centennial of the event that made it famous last year.

Among the Detroit-Greenfield passengers was Mrs. Pearl Scott of Walbridge, Ohio, a granddaughter of one of the Union soldiers who stole "The General" at Big Shanty, Ga., on April 12, 1862, in a bold attempt to cut Confederate supply and communication lines.

Her grandfather was Wilson Brown, who, along with other Union survivors of "the chase," received the first Congressional Medal of Honor ever awarded. She had the original medal, quite different from today's, plus one later issued to take its place and matching those of World Wars I and II.

Mrs. Scott also had the key to the Confederate Prison from which Brown escaped. He was luckier than James J. Andrews, the leader, and seven others among the civilian-clad Union raiders. They were hanged as spies, while Brown and 11 others went to prison.

Mrs. Scott said her grandfather was given the key when he revisited the prison from which he had escaped 15 years after the war.

While she had journeyed on other occasions to see "The General," Mrs. Scott got her first ride Thursday.

"I only wish," she said as husband Merle helped her aboard, "that father (James W. Brown) could have had this opportunity." Her father died in 1935. "The General" was refurbished only in 1961, after having sat in a railroad shed at Chattanooga, Tenn., for 70 years.

State Briefs

DETROIT (AP)—City Controller Alfred M. Pelham reported Wednesday that Detroit's one per cent income tax yielded $35 million its first year. Pelham said the income levy will bring in $39.5 million next year because of improved collection procedures, better business conditions and generally higher incomes.

INTERLOCHEN (AP)—Pianist Van Cliburn has accepted an invitation to become a member of the board of trustees of the National Music Camp and the Interlochen Arts Academy. Van Cliburn expressed pleasure at being more closely associated with the music and art center.

GRAND RAPIDS (AP)—Grand Valley State College—still under construction—will treat its first freshman class to a picnic and "hootenanny" Saturday night. Lake Michigan Hall, the school's first building, is without floors and ceilings, but contractors say it will be ready for use Sept. 15 for the start of classes. Strikes and weather have caused delays.

GRAND HAVEN (AP)—A. L. Edwards, 44, who has been superintendent for the Board of Public Works in Niles, Mich., has been chosen superintendent for the Board of Light and Power at Grand Haven. He has served at Niles for nine years and previously was at Holland where he supervised construction of a $2.5 million power plant expansion. Edwards takes over the new post Aug. 19, succeeding J.B. Sims, who retired in February.

Adrian To Travel To Lima, Ohio; Is Legion Champ

OWOSSO (AP)—Tom Billington came off two weeks on the sick list just in time Thursday to pitch Adrian to its first American Legion state baseball championship.

Billington arrived from Adrian in the afternoon, after his team had suffered its first loss of the double elimination tournament, 6-4, to Detroit Edison in the morning.

Billington's six-hit pitching and Adrian's 10-hit attack produced an 8-6 victory over the Detroit team. Edison already had lost once, 7-5, to Adrian and bowed out with the second loss.

Adrian will represent Michigan next week in the national regional meet at Lima, Ohio. The winner of the regional qualifies for the national finals at Keane, N.H.

Bill Heath's pitching paced Edison's morning victory. Heath allowed only two hits before the ninth inning, when an infield hit, a hit batsman, an error and Steve Rymal's three-run homer broke up his shutout.

Adrian pitcher-first baseman Doug Nelson, the loser of the morning game, was named the tournament's most valuable player. Doug had 10 hits in 22 at bats, drove in eight runs and pitched a victory over Flint.

Cubs Still Winning, Trip LA 5-4 In 10th

By MIKE RATHET Associated Press Sports Writer

For Comeback of the Year honors, how about Ron Santo, the Cub clubber who's replaced Ernie Banks as the Chicagoans' entry in the National League power trust?

Santo, handed the cleanup spot in the batting order despite a .227 batting average in 1962, paid another dividend on the gamble Thursday when he hit a pair of homers that powered the Cubs to a 5-4, 10-inning victory over first-place Los Angeles.

Santo hit his first homer in the ninth inning to tie the score, then won it in the 10th with a shot over the left field bleachers that ended the Cubs' four-game losing skid and trimmed the Dodgers edge over second-place San Francisco to 5½ games.

Santo, who hit 284 in 1961, flourished last year while his confusion was compounded by continually being shuffled in the batting order. He was tabbed for the No. 4 spot during spring training and told "the job's yours."

Once he got the promotion, he started earning it. The 23-year-old

Kenny Lane Looks For New Partners

SAGINAW (AP) — Southpaw boxer Kenny Lane is looking for more sparring partners to practice on for his Aug. 19 fight with Paulie Armistead.

The Muskegon fighter's camp issued a plea Thursday for any weighing between 140 and 180 pounds.

The Lane-Armistead bout is billed in Michigan as the world lightweight championship fight.

Part of Lane's problem is that he needs more sparring partners than most boxers. He likes to box 10 to 15 rounds daily, while most modern fighters consider it a busy practice session when they have boxed four rounds.

Powers Trips Mead No. 2, 6-1

Merchants In Semifinals, Beat Skinny's Bar 13-2

The Escanaba Merchants, American League softball competitors in the Class B district tournament, rebounded last night from the no-hit, 4-0 trouncing at the hands of Mead No. 1 earlier this week, and slammed their way to an easy 13-2 victory over Skinny's Bar.

The loss for Skinny's puts them out of the tournament, and also means that Skinny's does not qualify to compete in the Upper Peninsula Class B Tournament to be played in Escanaba Aug. 21-25. The win for Merchants puts them in contention for the district title along with Flat Rock and Mead No. 1. Flat Rock and Merchants will clash in the headliner at 8:30 on Saturday night to decide which team meets with Mead No. 1 on Sunday evening at 7:00 for the title.

The Merchants got considerable batting practice last night, stroking out two triples, two doubles and 11 singles. Bud Kennedy collected a triple and a two-bagger in two at-bats. Wally Flath had three singles in three at-bats. Don Martineau had a double and a single. Chum Derouin, Cliff O'Donnell and Fran Gravelle each had two singles for the evening. Merchants got their first six runs when ten batters came to the plate in the second inning. They picked up four more in the third when eight batters came up, and two more runs in the fourth when seven Merchants came to the plate.

Bob Corriveau went all the way on the hill for the Merchants, allowing five hits and the two runs. Skinny's got their first run on a single by Jack Annear and another by Phil Davidson in the third inning. The other runs came when Jack Annear and Bob Lancour hit back-to-back doubles in the fifth. The game was stopped because of the ten run lead rule in five complete innings.

In the first game at 7:00, Powers Merchants ripped up the Mead No. 2 team's chance to stay in the tournament by thumping them 6-1.

All-Stars Named For Farm League

Little League Farm League under the direction of Paul Vardigan will have an All-Star game Monday, Aug. 12, at 7:30 at the Memorial Field.

Five teams have been active this summer and there appears to be many prospects for next year's Little League teams.

The players for the All-Star game were selected by the managers. The National League team managed by Claude Bohn, and coached by Paul Homes and Rune Ostlund will have the following players: Tom Rader, Sterling Schrock, Ricky Brooks, Tom Bohn, Tom Homes, Dennis Ness, Jon Krochmer, Steve Ammel, Steve Carlson, Mark Ostlund, Mark Irving, Dennis Ryan and Tim Homes.

The American League team, managed by Jerry Nelson and coached by Mike Williams, Tom Elgeert and Earl Dumas is as follows: Dennis Lueneburg, Mike Decker, Dave Walker, Brian Larson, Barry Larson, Brenden Williams, Mike Makosky, John Pratt, Dan Moore, Phil Dumais, Cliff DeSalvo, Cliff Hull and Doug Laviolette.

The National League All-Stars will practice Saturday at 1 p. m. at the Little League Field. The American League All-Stars will practice at 1 p. m. at the Royce Park.

The public is invited to attend the All-Star game.

Azcue Steals Home As Cleveland Wins

By MIKE RATHET Associated Press Sports Writer

Necessity, the mother of invention who sometimes winks at major league managers, has shoved two of her stepchildren into the American League spotlight—Jose Azcue and Gary Peters.

Azcue, whose credits include his failure to hold a job with Kansas City, stole home for Cleveland's first run Thursday night and scored the other after stroking a double to pave the way for a 2-0 victory over Baltimore in which batterymate Dick Donovan pitched a three-hitter.

It was the first steal of the season for the 23-year-old catcher, acquired from the A's along with his 213 major league batting average and immediately handed the No. 1 job at Cleveland when Johnny Romano was sidelined.

At the time, Azcue was the only available receiver. Now Romano's hard-pressed to regain his job, with Azcue hitting a creditable .279 with eight homers and 29 runs batted in.

Peters, who produced an 0-1 record in four previous shots at a major league berth, suddenly has developed into one of the hottest pitchers in the league, winning his sixth straight for the Chicago White Sox in a 5-3 triumph over Kansas City.

The 26-year-old left-hander, kept in the starting rotation by Manager Al Lopez despite a slow start, has posted an 11-5 record and produced an eye-opening 2.07 earned run average.

His latest triumph kept the second-place White Sox eight games behind the first-place New York Yankees, 3-1 winners at Washington.

Third - place Minnesota kept pace with a 3-0 decision over the Los Angeles Angels on Dick Stigman's six-hitter while Detroit belted Boston and Dick Radatz 6-5 in 10 innings.

The Chicago Cubs knocked off the National League-leading Los Angeles Dodgers 5-4 in 10 innings, the New York Mets downed St. Louis 3-2, Cincinnati whipped Philadelphia 6-3 and Pittsburgh shut out Milwaukee 1-0. San Francisco and Houston were not scheduled.

Azcue singled and came home on the front end of a double steal in the seventh and scored the only other run off Steve Barber, 15-9, on Tito Francona's double in the ninth. Donovan, 7-10, allowed a first-inning single by Luis Aparicio, Russ Snyder's bunt single in the fourth, and a double in the eighth by Jackie Brandt, the only Oriole to reach second base.

Peters was touched for three runs in the first three innings but settled down and permitted only two A's to reach base the rest of the way. Dave Nicholson hit a two-run homer to get the White Sox started and Al Weis cracked a two-run double in the sixth inning to put Chicago ahead to stay 4-3.

Phil Linz got the Yankees off ahead with a fifth-inning homer and they made it 3-0 in the eighth on a single by Tony Kubek, Bob Richardson's double and a single by Tom Tresh.

Detroit Tiger infielder Dick McAuliffe is a member of the Air Force Reserve.

Slumpers Big Stars As New Tigers Trim Sox, Dick Radatz

DETROIT (AP) — The reason the Tigers are sizzling—so piping hot they can beat Dick Radatz one day and the next day prove it wasn't a fluke—is percentages.

That's Manager Charlie Dressen's explanation why the Tigers have rattled off six victories in seven games—the last two in dramatic fashion against the best reliever in baseball.

"The percentages are catching up with us," said Dressen Thursday after Rocky Colavito's 10th-inning single off Radatz produced a 6-5 comeback victory over Boston.

"We'd lost a lot of games like that — and now it's our turn to win them. When you have the kind of players like we do, things start evening up eventually."

So, finally in August, the Tigers are making their push. The Tigers won Thursday's game with Colavito and Norm Cash delivering the key blows. Colavito singled in the run that tied it 2-2 in the eighth and Cash followed with a three-run homer.

That flurry became anti-climatic when the Red Sox retaliated with three runs in the ninth—two on Gary Geiger's second homer of the game — and brought on Radatz.

The Tigers had beaten the Monster Wednesday on Al Kaline's three-run homer in the seventh. Surely, they couldn't do it two days in succession against a pitcher who'd lost only one game until last Friday. That's the way it appeared when Radatz mowed the "Tigers down 1-2-3 in the ninth."

But then Dressen's percentages started favoring the Tigers. Billy Bruton led off the 10th with a single and stole second. Kaline was walked intentionally and up stepped Colavito. Radatz would pitch the runners to second and third.

Boston drew its outfield in for a play at the plate and Colavito hit the ball on one hop against the left field wall. It went for a 360-foot single and Radatz threw his glove almost as far.

"It was only the second or third hit I've ever gotten off Radatz," said Colavito. "I know I hit a three-run homer off him last year, but usually he's pretty tough for me."

As Colavito's ball rode out, Radatz' glove flew all the way in from the mound to the seats along the first base line. He lost not only the game — his third in six days after going unbeaten nearly three months—but his temper and a $25 glove to boot.

And speaking of boots and percentages — the Tigers' major league record streak of errorless games ended at 12. Dick McAuliffe broke the spell of perfect fielding when he dropped a routine pop to shortstop.

Alan Koch, Dressen's fifth pitcher, was the winner. He picked up his first major league victory with one-inning of work.

The Tigers open an 11-game road trip tonight with a two-night doubleheader at Chicago. Hank Aguirre (10-10) and Mickey Lolich (4-6) will pitch for the Tigers. Joe Horlen (6-3) and Eddie Fisher (5-8) will pitch for the White Sox.

Football Players From Local Area Play At Tech

HOUGHTON — Michigan Tech has invited 61 football candidates to the opening of 1963 drills September 1, according to coach Bill Lucier.

The Huskies will hold twice-a-day drills September 2 in preparation of the season opener September 14 at Superior State, Superior, Wis.

Coach Lucier, starting his first season as head coach after six years as Tech end coach, will call on 19 lettermen, 4 non-letter veterans, and 38 newcomers.

Upper Peninsula invitations went to: Ralph Abaja, Kingsford; Jim Allen, Escanaba; Gene Belmont, Houghton; Henry Jackson, Marquette; Dave Corsum, and Jim Malloy, Manistiquie; Paul Butkovich, John Croze, Mike Messner, and Dave Pusa, Houghton; Tom Csmarich, Ontonagon; Jay Dishnow, Iron Mountain; Doug King, Wakefield; Charles Lucchesi, Hancock; Bill Roberts, Munising; and Dennis Sumberg, Calumet.

BATTING — Ron Santo, Cubs, homered in fifth inning to tie score, then hit 20th homer in 10th inning for 5-4 victory over National League-leading Los Angeles that ended Chicago's losing streak at four games.

PITCHING—Dick Donovan, Indians, shut out Baltimore 2-0 on three hits, allowing only one man to reach second base.

'61 Ball Tested

NEW YORK (AP)—Tests conducted for Sports Illustrated show that the 1963 major league baseball is about five per cent less lively than the ball used in 1961 when Roger Maris of the New York Yankees hit 61 home runs.

Rains Tigers & Dogs

Subsidized Fight Set For Nigerians

IBADAN, Nigeria (AP) — Middleweight champion Dick Tiger, the pride of Nigeria, meets American Gene Fullmer in a title fight for the third time Saturday but in a setting far different from San Francisco and Las Vegas.

This is Nigeria's first world title fight and the government is anxious to make it a prestige promotion. Officials have brought in Jack Solomons, an experienced British promoter, to stage the 15-rounder at Liberty Stadium, and have subsidized the fight to the tune of $280,000 so that the fighters can be paid in the style which they have become accustomed to in the United States.

They have not neglected African custom and superstition. It's been raining tigers and dogs here lately—heavy, drenching torrential downpours that last three hours at a clip. This has made quite a mess of the road from Lagos, the Nigerian capital some 89 miles from Ibadan.

Since a lot of the paying customers are expected from Lagos,

Chief Joseph Modupe Johnson, the Cabinet minister for labor and sports, would like to make sure they can make the trip. So he's hired a pair of rain doctors to put the whammy on the rain clouds.

If the rain does let up, the chief expects about 45,000 to pay their way in for the 7:30 p.m. (1:30 p.m. Eastern Standard Time) bout. That many customers would cover the guarantees of $100,000 for Tiger, the native son, and $50,000 for Fullmer, the challenger, and ex-champion from West Jordan, Utah.

Tiger, now 33, won the title from Fullmer by thumping the American, now 32, at San Francisco in 15 rounds, Oct. 23, 1962. In a return bout at Las Vegas, Nev., last Feb. 23, the two huskies fought to a draw.

END OF SAD JOURNEY

OTIS AIR FORCE BASE, Mass. (AP) — A sorrowing President Kennedy arrived at his wife's hospital bedside today to share with her the heartbeat of their infant son's death.

The President was accompanied by his brother, Atty. Gen. Robert Kennedy.

It was not known whether Mrs. Kennedy yet was aware that baby Patrick Bouvier Kennedy had died in the early hours after only 39 hours and 12 minutes of life.

In marked contrast to the tragic occasion, the presidential helicopter settled down in the bright sunshine.

It was the end of a sad journey for the chief executive to the bedside of his wife, who had been through two days of worry after the Caesarean birth of her third child.

The President completed his journey to hospital in a big white convertible. Contrary to his usually informal, open manner of travel on Cape Cod, the President rode concealed beneath the car's black canvas top.

He and his brother had to pass a battery of cameramen as they walked swiftly up the few steps to the hospital wing.

Members of the staff, patients, doctors and nurses craned out of windows in adjoining barracks buildings to catch a glimpse of the President as he arrived, this time in sadness instead of in the joyful mood that had followed the first hours of the birth of young Patrick.

The President looked tired. His face was unusually lined after the long ordeal that began with his dramatic race from the summer White House Wednesday and concluded with his sad overnight vigil at the Children's Medical Center in Boston.

Mrs. Kennedy had retired Thursday night buoyed by word from the President that their new baby was showing improvement.

SERVICES SATURDAY

HYANNIS PORT, Mass. (AP)—Richard Cardinal Cushing, archbishop of Boston, will officiate at funeral services Saturday for Patrick Bouvier Kennedy, infant son of President and Mrs. Kennedy, who died today.

The Mass of the Angels, the special Roman Catholic service for infants, will be offered at 10 a.m., EDA, in the cardinal's private chapel at his residence in Boston.

Presidential press secretary Pierre Salinger said only immediate members of the family will attend.

Burial will be in the Kennedy family plot in Holyhood Cemetery, Brookline. There, too, attendance will be limited to the family.

The President, now at his summer home on Squaw Island, will go by helicopter Saturday, landing on the lawn at the Cardinal's residence.

Jail Issue To Be Topic

The Delta County Board of Supervisors will meet in regular session Thursday, Aug. 15, in the County Building. The meeting will begin at 10 a. m.

One of the main topics on the agenda will be the matter of the proposed new county jail.

The present facility, some 80 years old, fails to meet the requirements of the state jail inspector. The county has been notified by the inspector that steps are now being taken to issue a closing order on the jail.

A request has been made by the county board under the Federal Accelerated Works Program for a grant of $177,000 for construction of a new jail. Total cost of the new jail would be about $350,000. If the grant is approved the county would have to raise the remaining $177,000 to make up the total amount.

If the grant is authorized by the federal government the county has a 30-day period in which to specify its means of obtaining their share of the costs and construction must begin within 120 days from the date of the grant.

Teachers School Shows Growth

CHATHAM — Rod Smith has been happy as an ogler with four eyeballs this week. His third annual Teachers Conservation Scholarship School here at Camp Shaw, closing Saturday, has been the most successful of the series.

This is the first year that the school has granted college credit, although it has been given at the similar school at the Conservation Department's Higgins Lake camp downstate for years in one of the several annual summer camp sessions for teachers. Only one of the four sessions downstate is devoted to credit courses, so the teachers in Michigan studying conservation for its own sweet sake far outnumber those who can use the course to upgrade their pay.

The first teachers conservation school at Chatham had 32 teachers enrolled, the second 37 and this year there are 58 enrolled. The Upper Peninsula school has always drawn much of its attendance from Lower Peninsula teachers because Upper Peninsula schools do not give growth and development status to teachers who take such non-credit work to improve their teaching.

Many Lower Peninsula schools give credit for such enrichment courses, foreign travel, etc. The U.P. teacher conservation school is mainly financed with scholarships under which clubs and other organizations sponsor teachers and pay the $25 a week cost of the camp for them.

This year's enrollment of 58 included 22 teachers who were paying their own way. Some years scholarships go begging. One year there were four available to Delta County teachers which were not used. Some were used this year by the U.P. teachers.

"We hope to have 7 teacher conservation scholarship schools next year," said Smith, U.P. educational consultant of the Conservation Department and head of the school. "Five of them would be at Higgins Lake and two here in the U.P. at Camp Shaw. We've done better this year, but we have only 70 teachers enrolled here and there are 70,000 teachers in Michigan, so we're not doing very well."

The teachers study natural resources and their usage at the conservation school. Upper Peninsula professionals teach geology, soil and water, conservation, education, community organization, forestry, wildlife, recreation and like subjects.

Western Michigan University's summer camp at Cusino sent some of its students to the teachers camp for some of its sessions.

The reaction of many of the teachers to the school's exposures is one of amazement. Its field trip curriculum covers instruction not found in most teacher education. When fisheries experts shocked Slapneck Creek below Camp Shaw and brought brook trout up in a boil of water the teachers got an example of what knowledge of resources does for understanding and enjoyment.

Manistique Seeks Matching Funds For Water Tank

MANISTIQUE — City council in informal meeting Thursday night asked city attorney William F. Hood to study the possibility of an $86,000 revenue bond issue to match an Accelerated Public Works grant for a new city water tower.

Revenue bonding may be needed as an alternative to millage, as the city has voted twice on millage this year and may be legally precluded from another millage effort until next year and the APW grant must be used soon or lost.

The city was advised Thursday by U. S. Senators McNamara and Hoot that the Community Facilities Administration had approved an $86,000 grant to Manistique for a municipal water tank, and improvements to the pumping station and water system.

The application was made by the city prior to a special election Feb. 25, in which voters rejected the proposal to build a new water tank. Another 1963 vote was on Armory millage. The present tower, according to Mayor Harold Carlson, needs extensive repairs. It is of 200,000 gallon capacity and the proposed new tank would be of 300,000 capacity.

The present water tower, completed in 1922, is beside the siphon bridge on the Manistique River. The proposed new tank will be built nearer the Schoolcraft Memorial Hospital, since it has a serious water pressure problem.

J. Mauritz Carlson, chairman of the Hospital Board of Trustees, said the facility is in dire straits due to the winter pressure problem and is not now able to obtain a sufficient water supply for all its needs.

Also involved in the water pressure problems are plans for a medicare facility. Plans have been drawn for a unit near Schoolcraft Memorial Hospital but Joseph Homminga, in charge of state hospital construction aid, said Hill-Burton Act federal aid would not be available for the facility until the water pressure problem is solved.

Under the federal plan tank work would have to begin within 120 days but local officials said additional time would be needed to finance the project.

Rotary Guest Arrives Here

Marinus Spaans, a young man from The Netherlands, arrived in Escanaba early today to spend the remainder of the summer here as a guest of the Rotary Club.

He is now with the Russell L. Johnsons, 316 S. 3rd St., and will in later weeks be a guest in the homes of other Rotarians and their wives. Marinus is 27 and is a teacher of English in a secondary school at The Hague.

Robert Mosenfelder, Rotary Club president, said that a program of tours, information and recreation is arranged for the young man, who is particularly interested in learning more about American educational systems.

Spaans is the youngest of a family of six children of Mr. and Mrs. Peiter Spaans, a retired sailor. The family resides at Scheveningen, a seaside town near The Hague.

Each year the Rotary Club sponsors the visit of a foreign youth to Escanaba in furtherance of Rotary's objectives of international peace, good will and understanding.

School Financing Proposal Endorsed By C-C Directors

The proposal to create a sinking fund to finance replacement of the Franklin School building and improve other elementary schools in the Escanaba Area District was endorsed by the Escanaba Chamber of Commerce board of directors Thursday.

The proposals to levy 2 mills for 5 years for school building; and to equalize the school debt of the district will be placed before the voters on Sept. 9.

The sinking fund levy would raise about $500,000 based on the school district's valuation of approximately 50 million dollars. First priority would be given replacement of the 81-year-old Franklin building.

Equalization of school debt for the district is essential to place all of the property owners on an equitable school levy foundation. Ford River and Cornell property owners now pay more than those in other parts of the area district because they are paying on elementary schools constructed before annexation.

Typhoon Leaves Havoc In Japan; 55-Foot Waves

TOKYO (AP) — Typhoon Bess cut through northern Kyushu, Japan's southernmost main island, today leaving havoc in her wake. National police headquarters here said one person was killed and two others are missing. A total of 2,317 people were left homeless.

Air, sea and land traffic in Kyushu and Shikoku were disrupted.

Waves nearly 55 feet high pounded streets along the shore in Ohita. Up to eight inches of rain accompanied by 55-mile gusts placed part of the city under waist-high muddy waters.

The famous mountain, Mont Blanc, is in France.

Knife Wielder Held In Assault On Ex-Fiancee

State Police of the Manistique Post are holding Eric Mattushek, 21, of 2539 N. 72nd St., Milwaukee, on a charge of felonious assault with a knife and for reckless driving.

Officers said that they were called about 5 p. m. Thursday when Miss Jean Schwartz, 20, of Channing St., Detroit, was threatened at the home of her grandmother, Mrs. Elizabeth Feathers at Nahma.

Miss Schwartz told officers she had been engaged to Mattushek and had broken off the engagement. She said she was washing clothes at Nahma Thursday when he appeared about 4 p. m. She said he called her names and said "I should slash your throat!"

He took a knife from his trouser pocket, she said, and pushed her against the screen door. She screamed and broke away from him, she told police, and ran into the house. Oliver Feathers came to the door and Mattushek left driving off in his car at suicidal speed.

A short distance down Delta County Road 497 Mattushek's car struck a tree and was wrecked. He was not hurt.

Mattushek was arrested for reckless driving and having improper plates on the vehicle. He was lodged in the Schoolcraft County jail at Manistique on the felonious assault charge.

Miss Schwartz was not injured. Mattushek is a machine operator in Milwaukee. She had associated with him while living in Milwaukee and is now on vacation at Nahma.

Nuclear Blasts Underground Not Easy To Detect

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — A member of the U.S. negotiating team says the limited nuclear test ban treaty points up a serious gap in the technology necessary for nuclear arms control: underground detonations.

They were excluded from the treaty because scientists have not found a sure way to detect and identify all subsurface blasts. Dr. Frank Press, director of the seismology laboratories of California Institute of Technology, said in an exclusive interview.

Precise information about this research is secret. Neither side wants the other to know how much progress is being made in distinguishing explosions from earthquakes.

But informed sources say this research is going ahead full speed, because a breakthrough could lead to cessation of all nuclear weapons testing.
